The meeting was called to order by Mr. Hare at 2:25 PM.

1. The Minutes of the April 13 meeting of the Board of Directors were discussed and amended. A motion by Mr. Lokshin to approve the Minutes as amended was seconded and passed without dissent.

2. Mr. Hare submitted a written report, which was entered into the Minutes:

   On Monday, Wikimedia DC turned two years old. Happy birthday to our chapter!

   This past month has been very productive for Wikimedia DC. We held our first two WikiSalons on April 19 and May 8, which gave local Wikipedians the opportunity to meet and discuss wiki matters. We participated the All Things GW edit-a-thon with George Washington University on April 20, where thirty people, both veteran Wikipedians and newcomers, improved articles on DC-area topics. We also held the Furloughed Feds Workshop, our first of what I hope will be a series of outreach events catered to federal employees, where we improved some federal government-related articles and discussed the federal government's use of wikis.

   Our biggest event, however, was the inaugural GLAM Boot Camp, held at the National Archives on April 26–28. We recruited 15 Wikipedians from across the United States and Canada to introduce them to the GLAM-Wiki movement and to train them to engage with cultural institutions in their home cities. The event was a big success, with a group of Wikipedians motivated to spread the values of the Wikimedia movement. We also enjoyed the appearances of Archivist of the United States David Ferriero, who gave the opening talk at the beginning of the workshop and then made an impromptu appearance the next day, where he helped a breakout group come up with strategies for reaching out to cultural institutions. I am honored that Wikimedia DC had the opportunity to host the first GLAM Boot Camp, and I am pleased that our relationship with the National Archives remains strong.

The day following GLAM Boot Camp was a meeting of the GLAM-Wiki U.S. Consortium, which Wikimedia DC helped sponsor. The Consortium is a group of Wikipedians and cultural sector professionals, and they have excellent ideas for improving the Wikimedia projects through partnerships with galleries, libraries, archives, and museums.

Coming up, we have:
- Our dinner meetup on Saturday, May 11 at Vapiano in Dupont Circle
- WikiSalons on May 17, June 3, and June 21
- The Legislative Data Meetup with the Cato Institute on June 8, as a followup to the Legislative Data Workshop held in March
- The Field Notes Edit-a-Thon with the Smithsonian Museum of National History on June 21
- The Great American Wiknic on June 22, location to be decided Planning is underway for Wiki Loves Monuments in the United States, with the assistance of Wikipedia user "Mono" and many additional volunteers, and I am hoping to start planning an embassy event soon. These two endeavors are significant undertakings for Wikimedia DC, but they provide the best opportunities to build our name as a D.C. area organization, and we should take the most advantage. We have improved our capacity to schedule events, and that is great news. However, we have additional long-term challenges, including building our community (offline and online), our fundraising capacity, and our communications apparatus. The effort needed to build our organization will require all the expertise we can get our hands on, and I have been reaching out to both board members and those who have experience with nonprofit business development. If you have any ideas as to who I should contact, please let me know. In time, our community will grow, and as our community grows we will have more opportunities to advocate for free knowledge and improve the Wikimedia projects.

3. Ms. Anderson reported that she had attended the Furloughed Feds Workshop.

4. Mr. Lokshin submitted a written report, which was entered into the Minutes:

As of May 11, Wikimedia DC has 51 members in good standing; this represents an increase by 3 new members since our last meeting. The new memberships include our first non-US member, from Denmark.

On April 16, Wikimedia DC signed an Organizational Grant Agreement with the Wikimedia Foundation; this agreement corresponds to our Outreach 2013 grant application. A copy of the agreement will be filed with this report in the minutes.

[document attached]

I have spent much of my time over the last month preparing our new application for tax-exempt status under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. I anticipate distributing the application for internal and external review early next week.

5. Mr. Meyer submitted a written report on behalf of the Grants Committee, which was entered into the Minutes:

We've paid for the Women in the Arts edit-a-thon and received a report back. We've authorized a $300 grant for upcoming Field Notes edit-a-thon at the Meeting of Natural History. We've authorized $100 for refreshments at the Chicago Wiknic. We're working out our expectations of the reports-back from events to which we give grants.

6. Mr. Lokshin submitted a written report on behalf of the Governance Committee, which was entered into the Minutes:

The Governance Committee has prepared a draft of an amended and restated Conflict of Interest Policy in connection with Wikimedia DC's forthcoming application for 501(c)(3) tax-exemption; this draft has been submitted to the Board for review and approval. Additionally, the previously-submitted draft of the Expense Reimbursement Policy remains pending review and approval by the Board.

The current schedule for submission of additional drafts to the Board is as follows:

In conformity with the above determination it shall make its decision as to whether to enter into the transaction or arrangement.

4. Violations of the Conflicts of Interest Policy.
   (a) If the Board of Directors has reasonable cause to believe a person has failed to disclose actual or possible conflicts of interest, it shall inform said person of the basis for such belief and afford him or her an opportunity to explain the alleged failure to disclose.
