This month I attended the Lotico Washington Semantic Web Meetup: Linked Data, Structured Data on the Web with David Wood http://www.meetup.com/semweb-31/events/100179302/

This would be a useful presentation for Wikipedians, and especially for those involved with WikiData.

I also gave a talk about the Wikipedia Book Club for the Blind at DC Public Library, and an overview of the Wikimedia / Wikipedia organization February 1, 2013, with Christopher Corrigan of DC Public Library, at the Fifth Annual “Bridging the Spectrum” Symposium on Scholarship and Practice. The symposium was held at the Pryzbyla Center, Catholic University of America, on Friday.

(I filled in for Venetia Demson, of DC Public Library, who could not attend) http://slis.cua.edu/symposium/2013/afternoon.cfm

5. Speaking on behalf of the Fundraising Committee, Mr. Hare reported that a proposed fundraising target for Fiscal Year 2012–13 had been set, and that this target included 120 regular memberships, $1,000 of additional member donations, and $5,000 of individual and corporate donations.

Domain renewals:

* We made another attempt (successful this time) to transfer wikidc.org, the last one still at godaddy, to namecheap. For some reason, we never got confirmation emails before to complete that transfer previously. The domain expiry date is now in May 2014.

* wikimediadc.org domain registration was renewed and good through Feb 2014.

* wikimania2012.org expires in April, although Katie plans to renew it so that squatters don't take it.

We also still own wikilovesmonuments.us (good until Dec 2013) and librarylab.org (good until Sep 2013).

7. Mr. Hayes presented preliminary materials for a briefing with Congressional staff regarding Wikimedia, open source, and GLAM.

8. The Annual Budget for Fiscal Year 2012–13 was discussed and amended. A motion by Mr. Hare to recommend the budget as amended for approval by the members of the Corporation was seconded and passed without dissent, and said budget was entered into the minutes.
